The Connection

ABOUT THE CONNECTION Life is not always easy. Many of us struggle with major challenges like poverty, homelessness, substance use, mental illness, abuse and neglect, or trauma. The Connection, a Connecticut-based nonprofit human service and community development agency, partners with individuals and their families to provide the needed resources to improve their lives. Each month thousands of people throughout Connecticut are assisted by The Connection's diverse behavioral health, family support and community justice programs.

These programs reunite families, break the generational cycles of abuse and neglect, create safer, healthier communities and assist with mental illness and addiction issues. Helping our neighbors in need with dignity, respect and compassion for more than 40 years has made a difference in countless lives.
